

DAVIDSON FILES
A CONTEST BRIEF

Greensburg Attorney Finally Decides to Start Action in Roosevelt Case.

THE LEADERS WERE UNDECIDED

Announcement Was Made Tuesday
That the Contest Would Not Be Filed in The Fourth.

According to the latest information the Roosevelt managers of the Fourth District have decided at the twelfth hour to file a contest against the delegates-at-large, O. H. Montgomery of this city and Webb Woodfill of Greensburg. The Roosevelt people determined upon this action some time ago and secured all the necessary data, but later withdrew the contest and announced that they would make no fight upon the delegates.

This morning, however, a message was received that the contest has been renewed, and that Thomas Davidson, an attorney at Greensburg and a prominent Roosevelt leader, had filed a brief in the contest. It is understood that the brief was based largely upon the report of John Overmyre, who made a visit to Jackson and Jennings counties a short time ago. Judge John M. Lewis of this city, will prepare the reply brief and will file his answer before the meeting of the national committee.

The brief submitted by Mr. Davidson alleges that the delegates from Jackson and Jennings counties to the convention were not legally elected because a part of the voters of these two counties were disfranchised at the convention. The Roosevelt people hope to be able to throw out the votes of Jackson and Jennings counties which will give them a majority in the convention, and they could then elect delegates-at-large who would be favorable to Col. Roosevelt.

The Taft leaders in this city have not given the alleged contest much attention. The method of electing delegates to the convention was the same this year as has been adopted in previous years. No complaint was registered at the time of the convention, that unfair and unjust means were being employed. It is understood that quite a number of the Roosevelt leaders in Jackson county are opposed to the contest of delegates as they feel that no benefit will result, and for the good of the party it would be better to keep out of a dispute. It is also understood that the Roosevelt managers do not anticipate changing the votes in Jackson and Jennings counties but will file their contest for whatever influence it might have upon others where they believe they have a good opportunity to secure additional delegates.

The national committee will convene tomorrow and the cases which will be presented for settlement will then be taken up. There is a likelihood that the contest in this convention will not be heard and if others are settled prior to the time that the Fourth District contest is heard, it will be dismissed and no action will be asked.

Seymour Lodge Holds One of The Largest and Most Successful
Meetings in It's History

DEGREE WORK IS CONFERRED

Seymour Staff Will Give Work at Dedication of New Temple at Scottsburg.

One of the largest and most successful meetings in the history of Seymour Lodge No. 204, I. O. O. F. was held Tuesday evening in the hall. The large hall was crowded with almost three hundred Odd Fellows from the local lodge and the surrounding lodges. Columbus lodge was represented by twenty-five members, Jeffersonville by twenty, Scottsburg by twenty, Crothersville by fifteen, and Austin, Freetown, Brownstown and Louisville lodges were all well represented.

The Columbus degree staff conferred the first degree in a very excellent and impressive manner, and the Jeffersonville staff gave a beautiful exemplification of the second degree. After the work short talks were made by several of those present and then everyone repaired to the banquet table, where a lunch consisting of sandwiches, coffee, ice cream, cake, fruit and lemonade was served.

The remainder of the evening was spent in a social way and several of the visitors from Jeffersonville entertained the crowd with some excellent music and singing.

The visitors spoke very highly of the entertainment accorded them by the local lodge, and have invited the local staff to visit them and confer the degrees in the near future. The Seymour staff will also confer the work at the dedication of the new temple being erected by the lodge at Scottsburg, which will occur some time in the fall.

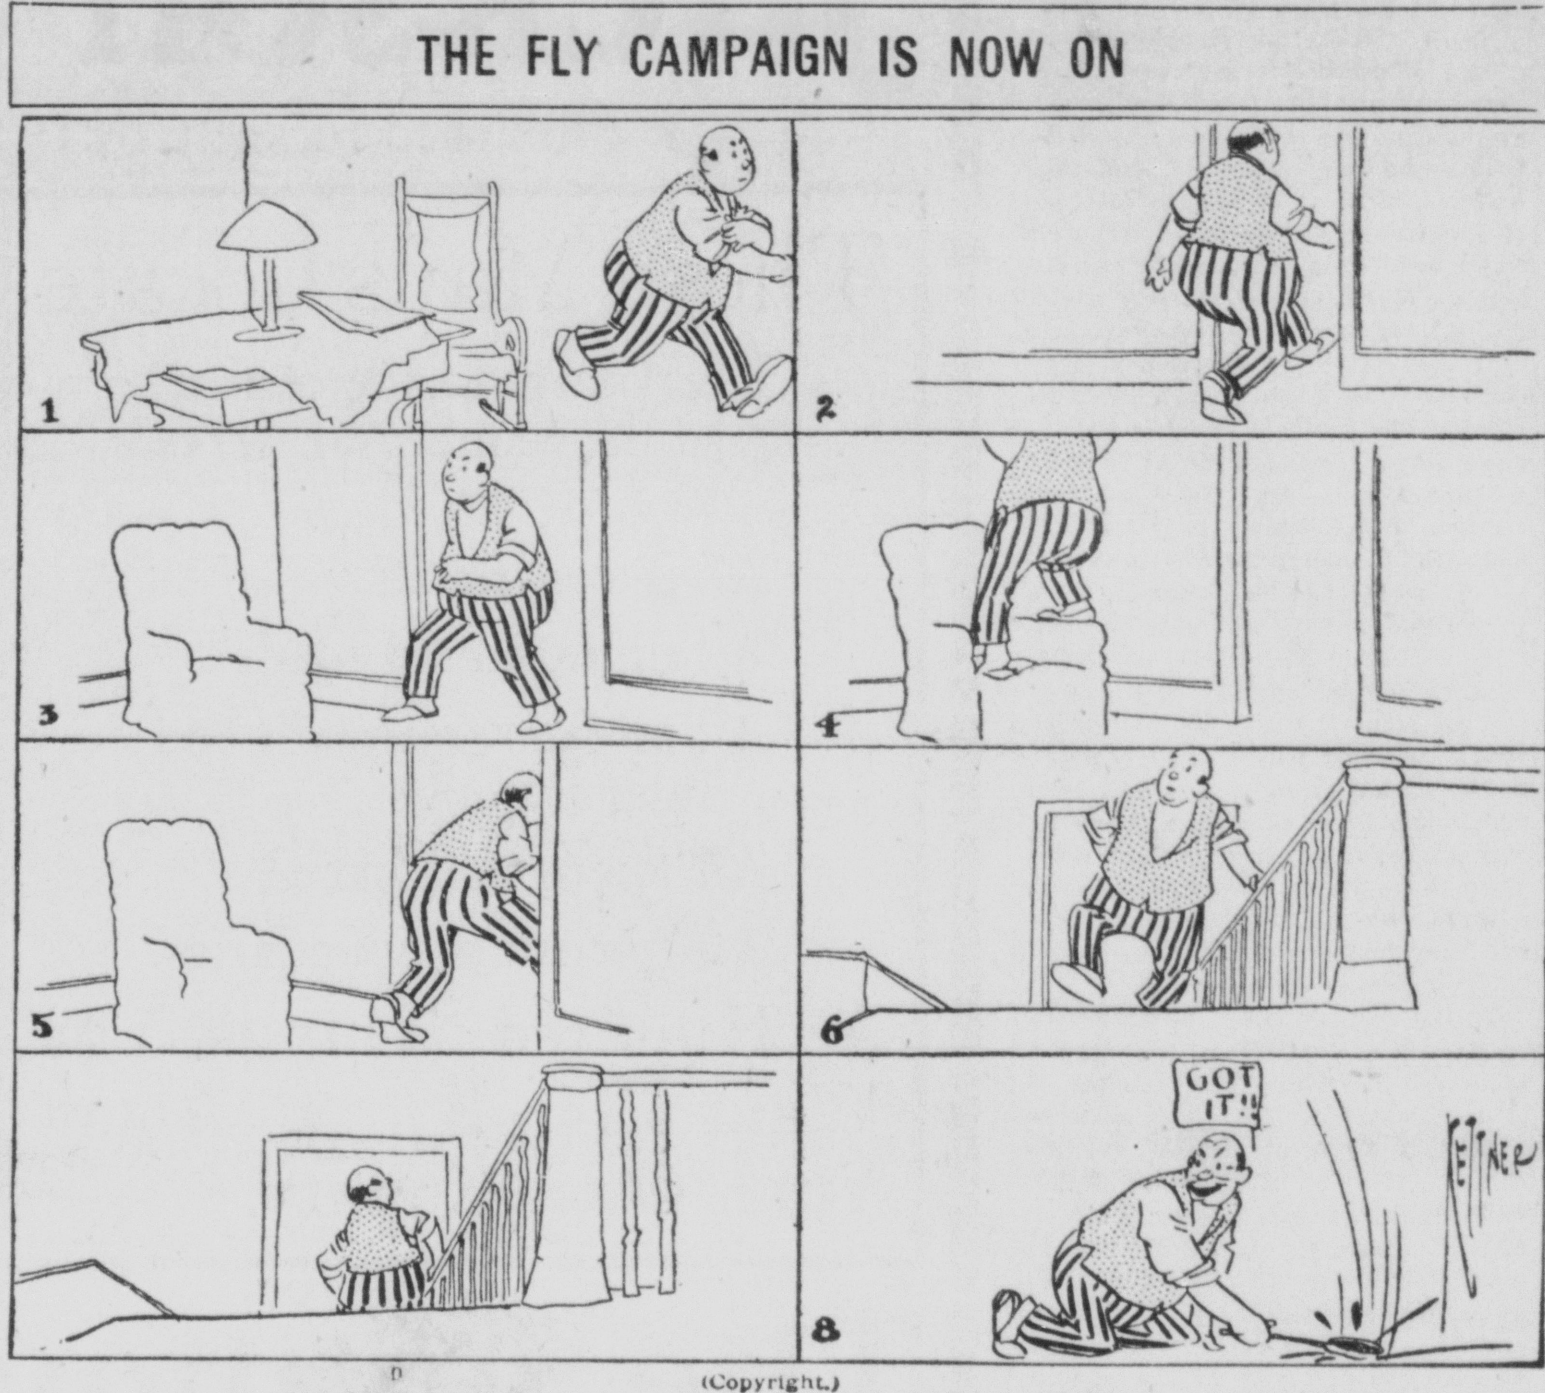

WILLIAM H. AND MEADE W.
SHIELDS, BROTHERS, DEAD

Sons of The Founder of Seymour
Pass Away Within a Few Hours of Each Other.

William H. Shields and Meade W. Shields, sons of Capt. Meade W. Shields, founder of Seymour, died this morning. The death of the former occurred about 3 o'clock at the family home at Rockford and his brother, Meade W., died shortly before noon at his rooms in the Hotel Jonas building. They were the last members of the original Shields family. Both died of paralysis.

William H. Shields, was stricken with paralysis about six years ago and had been in ill health since that time. Since Christmas he had not been able to leave his home and for several weeks his condition had been critical. He lived in this county all of his life and had a wide acquaintance. He was married to Miss Sarah Kester, and to them were born one son, Bruce, who resides at Rockford. His widow also survives him.

The death of Meade W. Shields came unexpectedly. For some time he had been employed as night clerk for the New Lynn Hotel of the departments in the old Jonas block and went on duty Tuesday as usual. About midnight he was stricken with paralysis and his condition was at once declared critical. He was removed to his rooms but did not regain consciousness. His death occurred about 11:50 o'clock this morning.

He was born sixty-seven years ago at the Shields Home on West Sixth street which is now owned by John H. Peter. He was the youngest son of Capt. and Mrs. Meade W. Shields. In 1871 the deceased was married to Miss Ida Conway and to them was born one daughter, Miss Sarah Shields of Indianapolis who survives him.

A double funeral will be held from the home of the late William H. Shields at Rockford Friday morning. The death of the brothers at so nearly the same time and that their funerals will be held together is a coincidence as the death of their sisters, Mrs. Sarah Blish and Mrs. Eliza Dickinson, occurred at practically the same time and double funeral services were conducted.

AFFIDAVITS DISMISSED
Cases Against Brownstown Druggist
Will Not Be Tried.

The affidavits which were filed a few days ago against Thomas F. Barrett, druggist at Ewing, have been dismissed and the cases will not be tried. He was charged with illegal sales of liquor.

A number of influences are said to have entered into the filing of the charges and as soon as these were brought to light the cases were immediately dropped.

MAY REGISTRATION
COST COUNTY $842

Two More Sessions Will Be Held And
Total Expense Will Amount to Nearly $2,000.

TOTAL SUPPLY BILL IS $164

Average Cost of Each Voter Who Registered at First Session Was About 20 Cents.

The official report of the expense of the May registration session shows that the registry law is an expensive one for the citizens of Jackson county. The total cost of the first registration day amounted to $842.45, or an average of about 20 cents for each voter who registered. Of this amount, however, $164.90 was expended for supplies for the three sessions, and this item of expense will not be included in the future statements. Assuming that one-third of the supply bill should be charged against the first registration day, the total expense for the first session of the board amounted to $732.51.

There are two more registration sessions, one in September and one in October, and the expense of these sessions will be about the same as the first, providing that the boards hold only one day sessions. Under the law, the boards may remain in session for three days upon the petition of five voters of the precinct, and it is altogether probable that at least some of the boards will hold longer sessions than one day during September or October. In other words the three sessions of the registration boards will probably cost the county not less than $2000.

According to the registration law,

You can rest assured that your property is insured in GOOD COMPANIES every time you hear the fire alarm, if WE place the insurance. The insurance policy is just as good as the company behind it, no more, no less—if the company is strong and properly managed, you'll enjoy prompt settlement of your losses—otherwise, in all probability, not. the inspector and clerk are paid $4 a day, but Attorney General Thomas M. Honan has held that an inspector shall be paid for only the time that he works. If less than a day is required to file the reports he is entitled to pay for only the time that he works and his remuneration is based upon the rate of $4 a day. The claims of the registration board were allowed by the commissioners and the warrants will be ready for distribution in a few days.

MARINES LAND TO

Four Hundred and Fifty, Under Command of Col. Lucas, Arrive in Cuba.

NOT SENT FOR INTERVENTION

Many Negroes Are Arrested in Hope of Putting Down the Rebellion.
Six Shot.

Havana, Cuba, June 5.—Four hundred and fifty United States marines, under command of Colonel Lucas, were landed today at Deses point, close to Caimanera, from which point they proceeded by train for Guantanamo City. The announced purpose of the movement is to guard American property and not for intervention.

The permanent American naval station at Guantanamo bay is in the immediate vicinity and south of Caimanera. Guantanamo city is ten miles north of Calmanera, and there is railroad connection between the two places. American property in the vicinity of Guantanamo city consists of mines, sugar plantations, etc., in the Guantanamo valley.

The Guantanamo valley is a flat horseshoe shaped basin surrounded by mountains. In the valley are great cane fields supporting nine sugar mills, many owned by American companies, among them the Santa Cecilia Sugar Company of New York, the United Fruit Company and the Nipo Bay Company.

Six negroes, attempting to escape today were shot and killed by federals in the wholesale arrest of blacks at Cuanajay, in the province of Pinar del Rio, on charges of conspiracy. One hundred and twenty-six other negroes were brought to Havana and placed in jail. This method of arresting negroes before they have time to commit any overt act of rebellion is the latest mode of procedure adopted by the government to put down the insurrection.

It was reported today that the Santiago Chamber of Commerce, largely dominated by foreign interests, had resolved to ask intervention by the United States. The proposed suspension of the constitutional guarantees required by President Gomez and recommended by the senate committee as embodied in a bill up for passage today, will apply only to province of Oriente to which the rebellion has practically been confined.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

PEG LEGGED OPTIMISM.

A friend sends us the story of John Goodwin, cripple.

In 1910 Goodwin moved on to a farm near West Point, Ga. It was a small brush farm and required much clearing to prepare it for crops. One day his brother, who was helping him, accidentally shot Goodwin in the leg.

Amputation became necessary, the limb being cut off just below the knee.

Goodwin was without money and had a family to support, but he did not give up hope.

In a few weeks he was hobbling about on crutches directing things. The neighbors kindly helped him out, and, crippled as he was, he succeeded in raising fourteen bales of cotton and some corn.

Then he got a peg leg.

He moved the next winter to a larger place, which was also a brush farm. He went vigorously to work clearing the land. In speaking of his work this indomitable cripple says:

"I did as much plowing as ever I did in one season—on my peg leg."

There's a picture for you—plowing on a peg leg!

Moreover, he says:

"I made sixteen bales of cotton and some corn, besides raising some fine shotes for my meat and lard. I may come out in debt some, but I am not lonesome."

Now—

One might suppose Goodwin would be satisfied with having cleared two farms in as many years, but in a recent letter he says:

"I have got new ground this year and am preparing it while it is too wet for anything else. I am going to raise more corn this year. I forgot to tell you about my hay. I cut and housed twenty big loads."

How is that for a cripple?

One cannot but wonder what Goodwin might be able to do with two good legs. And the optimism of the man is good to think about.

Some there are who besides being maimed in limb are lamed in mind, but not John Goodwin.

When he was shot in the leg he was not wounded in spirit.

You can cripple a man's body, but you can't make his mind go on crutches.

John Goodwin's leg lies moldering in the tomb, but his soul goes marching on.

E. H. Hinkle, 415 Laurel St., Seymour, Ind., says: "In 1900 I was on the verge of dropsy. I had sharp pains in my back that often radiated throughout my body, and I was hardly able to walk. I rested poorly and was annoyed by too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. After doctoring for over a year without being helped, Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by a friend, who had used them with good results. I procured a supply and the contents of a few boxes cured me. I have never had a recurrence of kidney trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills have my heartiest endorsement."

FOR BETTER ENGLISH.

Readers of many current books, particularly books of fiction, know beyond doubt that ultra-modern writers—with but extremely few exceptions—show on nearly every page of their productions a sad ignorance, or disregard, of English grammar and word values. "Drunk" instead of "drank," "like" in the place of "as if," "who" in lieu of "whom" and vice versa, and a host of other errors of a similarly elemental sort, are found continually by the man who reads a lot of current novels—till he's actually astonished when he happens to come across one of the rare truly well-written novels which have style—corrections and elegance. What is the reason? Is it the last ten or twenty years' aversion—on the part of us Americans, especially—to classic education? Is it the rushing into the field of letters of too many persons who are meant to wield a hoe and not a pen? Is it the carelessness of publishers, or their commercialistic, cold indifference to real art, its rights and its demands? One thinks that it is all of these, perhaps. Unquestionably not a little of the ignorance in question may be traced to the contempt for classic knowledge which distinctly marks the mental attitude of the younger America, and which has been allowed to have its way to send the classics into exile. Then there are hundreds of would-be authors who are utterly unqualified—and they find publishers, somehow.

To the ordinary man the difference between a profession and a calling is indistinct. But the law makes a sharp distinction. This is well illustrated by a recent decision of the supreme court of Washington. A surveyor was employed to give the lines of a lot that the owner might put up a building. Later the city notified the owner that his building projected several feet over the property line, and he sued the surveyor for the expense of moving it back. The interesting thing about the case was the claim of the surveyor that he was not paid for, nor did he make a guaranteed survey, but that he had made a mistake in judgment. This the court would not allow. In a profession, judgment plays an important part; in a calling, reasonable skill and accuracy are more essential, from a legal point of view. Consequently the courts do not as a rule hold a lawyer or physician responsible for errors of judgment; it is a client's business to engage men of good judgment. Under the Washington court's ruling surveying is a calling and not a profession.

That some of the men who were rescued from the Titanic were less heroic than those who went down with the ship is a moderate way of putting an unpleasant truth. Mrs. Hippach of Chicago, one of the women survivors, said that the boat in which she and her daughter was saved contained 31 women and two men, one of the latter being a Spaniard who carried a poodle dog in his arms. The women, who were rowing, asked him to take an oar and help, but he said he couldn't as he had to mind his dog.

The Swiss plumber at Zurich who has been sentenced to a year's imprisonment for fraud, because he was found to be engaged to 16 girls at the same time, apparently needed a helper if ever a plumber did. It is only natural that he should feel relieved at being sent to jail, as all the girls still want to marry him.

A Cambridge physician says that society women are giving far more attention to their babies than was fashionable a decade ago. This is a solar plexus blow at the perennial plaint against the decadence of the times compared to what things used to be.

The average man can run a ship better than any navigator that sails the seas and can manage a ball team better than the best in the business. Criticism is the lot of those in authority and generally it is as unwarranted as it is illogical and absurd.

All the giant elm trees in the quadrangle at Harvard are to be cut down during the coming summer. This doubtless is one of Harvard's ways of showing her contempt for Yale, which has been made famous by her elms.

A statistician has figured out that in 2,000 years every man will answer to the name of Smith. He must think that a plague is going to wipe out the Robinsons and Jones.

An Ohio farmer has recovered his eyesight by the extraction of two of his teeth. If there is anybody who can make a man sit up and take notice it is the dentist.

A scientist announces that "meat-eaters are more active than vegetarians." Sure. Otherwise they couldn't be meat-eaters.

BRINGS GOMPERS INTO LIMELIGHT

Labor Leader Mentioned in Bribery Trial.

THE MONEY CAME FROM HIM

So Testifies Bert Franklin, Star Witness For State in the Case Involving Lawyer Darrow on a Charge of Jury Bribing in the McNamara Trial—Further Details of Other Lawyers' Connection With the Case.

Washington, June 5.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, denies emphatically that he ever sent any bribe money to Clarence Darrow. When his attention was directed to the report of the Darrow trial in Los Angeles, in which it is stated that he had sent Darrow money with which to bribe the jurors, Mr. Gompers said: "That is absolutely false and untrue. I never handled any of the McNamara fund and never paid any money to Darrow."

Los Angeles, June 5.—When Bert H. Franklin testified that Darrow told him the $4,000 used for bribery could not be traced by the district attorney because it came direct from Samuel Gompers, Clarence Darrow's trial on a charge of bribery of prospective jurors in the J. B. McNamara case yielded another sensation. Franklin gave this testimony reluctantly after he had been badgered considerably by Earl Rogers, chief counsel for Darrow, regarding his relations with Darrow, for whom Franklin had been confidential investigator.

Mr. Rogers was pressing the witness to tell about his conferences with Darrow when the Gompers matter came out.

"I would like you," Mr. Rogers said to the witness, "to relate the conversation you had with Darrow."

"Do you want it all? If you do, I'll give it to you."

"Yes, all the truth."

"Darrow said to me: 'Bert, if you plead guilty and get a fine, we will give you $3,000 for your family.'"

"Did you ever have any other conversations with Darrow about your defense in court or any aspect of your case?"

"That's a difficult question to answer," said the witness. Finally, after some controversy between counsel, witness said:

"I will answer it this way: I asked Mr. Darrow if the rumors about the $4,000 being traced by the district attorney from a safety deposit vault to him and from him to me, were true. Darrow said: 'This is not true, for it came direct from Sam Gompers.'"

"Well," said Rogers, with a sneer, "that was the conversation you did not wish to tell, was it?"

"No," snapped Franklin.

Franklin further testified that he asked Darrow if there was not a record kept at the safe deposit of Job Harriman's visit there, and Darrow told him not to worry about that. Harriman took $500 of the sum to pay off a mortgage and in that way to cover up his visit.

"Well," sneered Rogers, "it was solicitude for Mr. Darrow that induced you to keep the Gompers matter and the Harriman matter quiet, was it?"

"Well, I would not have told it if you did not make me," answered Franklin.

Rogers then led up to conversations between Franklin and Lecompte Davis, who was Franklin's attorney when he was first arrested, and also of counsel in the defense of J. B. McNamara. Franklin appealed to the court to save him from relating conversations with Davis when the latter was his attorney. Told to answer, he said:

"The first conversation I had with Davis was in the county jail. Davis said not to be impatient; that they would get me into court directly. I told him I wanted a cash bond. He said he believed that it could be attended to. The next conversation was in the courthouse after my arraignment. He told me to keep my mouth shut, especially to strangers and reporters. When I saw him again he told me to plead guilty to attempting to bribe George Lockwood, and that the penalty would be a fine of $5,000, one year in the penitentiary, or both. Davis said that he thought he could get me off with a fine and that they would give me $1,000 for my family."

OHIO REPUBLICANS IN RIOTOUS CONVENTION

Roosevelt Forces Prove They Are Bad Losers.

Columbus, O., June 5.—The Republican state convention, controlled by the Taft forces, led by United States Senator Burton, Warren G. Harding and Maurice Maschke, endorsed the administration of the president and selected six delegates-at-large from Ohio to the national convention pledged to cast their votes for him unqualifiedly. The vote on the question of endorsement was 393½ for Taft and 359½ for Roosevelt.

The convention was riotous, cheers, jeers and hissing prevailed almost from the moment the chaplain offered a prayer to the vote of the last county in the final roll call. The hissing was especially marked during the speech of Warren G. Harding of Marion county, endorsing President Taft.

"I have addressed 300 political meetings," said Mr. Harding in a storm of hisses, "and this is the first time I have been hissed."

The convention will meet again in Columbus, July 2, to name a state ticket.

The Roosevelt View.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 5.—Theodore Roosevelt in a formal statement expresses his opinion of the action of the Ohio state convention: "The plain people of the Republican party of Ohio," he says, "have just held a state-wide primary, in which they repudiated Mr. Taft by over 30,000 majority. The politicians by adroit manipulation have succeeded in giving Mr. Taft the six delegates-at-large in frank and cynical defiance of the emphatic action of the people themselves. This is, of course, pure political brigandage. This action in Ohio is merely a fresh and conclusive proof that Mr. Taft and his advisers care nothing for the will of the people and are eager to get the nomination without any reference to the methods by which it is secured. It is a crowning illustration of Mr. Taft's theory of government of the people by a 'representative part of the people.'"

In a raid on a "blind tiger" near Jenkins, Ky., two of the inmates of the "tiger" were killed and a deputy sheriff seriously wounded. Eight arrests were made.

Professor Lanfranchi of the University of Parma, who has been experimenting for four years on animals seeking a cure for the sleeping sickness, has fallen a victim to the disease.

Following the discovery of the Rev. Walter Spray, a Kokomo Holiness preacher, with a woman in his church with the doors locked, his congregation demanded the parson's resignation. Spray refuses to resign, denying wrongdoing.

THREATENED TO CARVE BOWELS

Kentucky Congressman Reaches for His Knife.

REPORTER OBJECT OF WRATH

Incensed at Article in a Washington Paper, Representative Thomas of the Blue Grass State Creates Scene in the National Capitol That Rapidly Developed Into a Disgraceful Free-for-All.

Washington, June 5.—With Joseph Annin, a local newspaper reporter, Representative Robert T. Thomas, jr., a Democratic member from Kentucky, engaged in a fist fight. The affair took place at the door of the house judiciary committee room and created such a furore that the committee hearing in the Archbald case was temporarily suspended. The fight between Messrs. Thomas and Annin developed into a free-for-all, and before it was over the Kentuckian reached for his knife and threatened to "cut the bowels" out of one of the men who aroused his anger. Mr. Thomas is a member of the judiciary committee, and he took exception to a statement contained in an article written by Annin to the effect that Thomas was an "infrequent attendant" at the Archbald sessions.

Mr. Thomas is over six feet high and weighs 200 pounds. His opponent is a small man, weighing scarcely more than 100 pounds. Mr. Thomas, when he reached the committee room, denounced the author of the article and, leaving the room, sent for Reporter Annin. The lie was passed and the fight was on.

According to Mr. Thomas the reporter struck the first blow. The Kentuckian then grasped the reporter by the throat and was choking him with enthusiasm when John Kirby of the New York World, another reporter, appeared on the scene. Kirby grabbed Thomas and bore him to the floor, keeping his knee on the representative's stomach for a minute or two. Thomas objected to this performance and struggled furiously to regain his feet. When he did, according to witnesses of the fight, Thomas reached for his side pocket and announced in stentorian tones that he would carve out somebody's bowels.

Members of the committee were among those who crowded about the fighters and assisted in restoring order. No arrests were made. A capitol policeman was detailed to prevent Mr. Thomas from causing further trouble.

A few minutes after the committee resumed its session, Mr. Thomas fell fast asleep in his seat on the bench occupied by committeemen at public hearings.

POOR MARKSMEN

Chinatown Troughs Waste a Good Deal of Ammunition.

New York, June 5.—The war of the gangs of Chinatown hums merrily on. Last evening an attempt was made to get Chick Trigger as he stood taking the air in front of a saloon on the Bowery. Three taxicabs loaded with toughs whizzed up the Bowery and discharged a fusillade of bullets at Chick and a friend he was talking with. Chick jumped through the swinging doors and took a kneeling position behind the bar. They didn't touch him, but winged Mike Fagin, with whom Chick was talking. Mike limped and cursed, and then disappeared before the police arrived. Chick expected trouble from the members of the Kid Twist gang following the Chinatown shooting the day before and kept secluded, but the gang found him and immediately opened fire.

Clipped His Program.

Havana, June 5.—The senate passed a resolution to draw up a bill authorizing the president to suspend the constitutional guarantees only in Santiago province instead of giving him discretion to declare martial law over the whole island. The rebels have burned the town of Jarahusca. The negroes entered the place and sacked it without any resistance. They are doing this same thing in every little town in the Santiago region.

Fatally Hurt at Ball Game.

Sickafoose, pastor of the Grace United Brethren church, is dying in a hospital here, the result of an accident while playing baseball at the annual outing of the Lafayette Ministers' association at Battle Ground. He was struck on the head by a foul tip and is suffering from concussion of the brain.

Made the Old Man Mad.

Glendale, N. Y., June 5.—Frederick Kock, a lumberman, shot and killed his son in his home here in the presence of the young man's mother and sister, and then ended his own life. The father was incensed at his son because the latter would not stick to a job that he had provided for him.

While undergoing builders' trials off the coast of Maine, near the entrance to Penobscot bay, the new dreadnought Arkansas scraped her bottom and suffered considerable damage.

LORD MERSEY PUTS ISMAY ON THE GRILL

Some Very Direct Questions Regarding Life Boats.

London, June 5.—Looking even more serious than usual, J. Bruce Ismay, the managing director of the White Star company, took the stand at the continuation of the Titanic inquiry by the wreck commission, of which Lord Mersey is chairman. He stood at the witness table in one corner of the courtroom with his hands clasped behind his back and swayed to and fro almost ceaselessly as he stood shifting from one foot to another. His answers to questions were ready and complete, but never redundant.

Mr. Ismay insisted that no attempt had been made to push the Titanic. On the other hand, he said, she was held back a little. Mr. Ismay said he saw the light of the "mystery ship," but thought it was the light of a sailing vessel. He scouted the idea that the light was that of the Leyland liner Californian. Lord Mersey was evidently taken by surprise at this and tried to shake Mr. Ismay's testimony on this point, but failed.

Mr. Ismay admitted that he had never considered the possibility of the Titanic having to use her lifeboats to save the lives of her passengers in the event of her foundering. He regarded the boats more as a means of taking people off other vessels that were in trouble or of landing the passengers and crew in the event of the Titanic going ashore.

"And what if a fire broke out?" asked Lord Mersey.

Mr. Ismay this time had no answer.

Five Die in Malt Well.

No More Liquor at Fort Wayne Fair Ground.

THE STOCK TO BE DESTROYED

Court Decides That No License Covered Sale of Liquors at Fair Ground and Will Issue an Order For the Destruction of the Stock of Liquors Seized in Raid—Defendant Will Carry the Case Higher.

Fort Wayne, Ind., June 5.—A victory was won by the temperance forces in their prolonged fight against the sale of intoxicants at the Fort Wayne fair ground when Special Judge James T. Merryman of Decatur decided in the circuit court that Oliver Steward had no license authorizing him to sell and that sales made there last September were illegal.

The court indicated that at the end of thirty days an order would be issued directing the destruction of the stock of liquors seized when the sheriff made his raid on the fair ground bar. Attorneys for Steward announced that the case would be appealed to the higher courts.

INVADE INDIANA

Kentucky Posse in Search of Man Who Is Accused of Murder.

Rockport, Ind., June 5.—In search of George Blackburn, said to be concealed in a thicket, a Kentucky posse crossed over the Ohio river into Indiana. In an encounter with two Owensboro policemen, Coleman Dawson, one of the policemen, was killed and Blackburn is said to have been wounded. Members of the Kentucky posse were met on the Indiana side by the sheriff of Spencer county, who swore them in as Indiana deputies.

Blackburn, heavily armed, is said to have been in hiding since the shooting, relatives and friends supplying him with food and ammunition.

THEN HE SHOT

Marion Police Captain Returned the Fire of a Lunatic.

Marion, Ind., June 5.—John Votaw, insane, who was being taken in an automobile to the insane hospital at Indianapolis, was shot and killed when he attempted to shoot Police Captain James Thompson with a revolver that he had concealed in his sock.

Thompson fired first in the air to frighten Votaw, who had jumped from the automobile, but when the insane man returned the fire the policeman fired the second shot. Votaw died in a few minutes.

Indianapolis, June 5.—Nicholas Moore, forty years old, plunged head first from the third tier of cells at the Marion county workhouse in a successful attempt to commit suicide. #### WARM BATTLE

Ohio Democrats in Bitter Contest Over the Unit Rule.

Toledo, O., June 5.—A fight to a finish on the unit rule proposition, with Governor Harmon's backers having a slight advantage over the anti-Harmon men, is inevitable at today's session of the Democratic state convention. The Harmon forces elected the majority of the members of the various committees and defeated Senator Pomerene for permanent chairman of the convention because he persisted in opposing the unit rule.

George S. Long, Governor Harmon's secretary, who acted as temporary chairman and delivered the keynote speech, was made permanent chairman. Harmon leaders are jubilant. The Wilson men, headed by Mayor Newton Baker, will fight the unit rule to the last ditch, and a hot time is anticipated.

Congressman Cox of Dayton will likely be nominated governor on the first ballot.

A PERMANENT FORCE OF TROOPS IN CUBA

This May Be American Solution of Problem.

Washington, June 5.—Officials of the state, war and navy departments are still pessimistic, dispatches from Cuba showing little or no improvement in the situation regarding the negro uprising.

Inasmuch as the administration now is known to be opposed to intervention, to say nothing of annexation, concerning which there has been much loose talk in unofficial circles in the last few days, discussions already have begun among responsible officials as to ways and means of preventing the recurrence of such a condition as now obtains in the island republic.

Army officers and state department officials are alike agreed that some plan should be devised which would obviate the necessity of considering intervention and taking over the government by the United States with every recurring upheaval.

One plan talked of is that of stationing in Cuba two regiments of cavalry, one at Havana and one at Santiago or Guantanamo as permanent American forces. An energetic American commander, it is believed here, could not only clean up a large area with a regiment of cavalry, but also instill into the Cuban forces something of American energy and aggressiveness.

A GOOD ILLUSTRATION.

When the taxpayer considers the enormous expense of the new democratic registration law, he begins to ask himself if the benefits are worth the cost. Conceding the fact that the registry law is a good measure for the larger cities where there is a greater possibility for corrupt elections, it must be acknowledged that the opposition against the law for rural districts is well founded. According to the official report, the May registration session cost the taxpayers of Jackson county over $800, and the expense of the two other sessions will be almost as great. If the boards meet for a longer period than one day, the expense incurred will be even greater.

This law, however is an example of the so-called Democratic-economic administration. Throughout the present administration public money has been expended and the people have been unable to see where benefits have been derived. The state treasury is now in an appalling condition due to the extravagance and waste of public funds, and the Democrats are exerting every effort to keep enough cash on hand to pay the current expenses. Advances upon the county treasury have been made but this money will not last long if the present unbusiness like methods are continued. The Democrats are reluctant to admit that their term in office has been unsatisfactory and as usual will lay the blame on the former administration. The people know, however, just how conditions stood at the close of the Republican administration that the state debt has been reduced, and when the Democrats took charge there was $1,197,000 in the sinking fund.

AGENCIES FOR EDUCATION

For the Farm Prepared by Edward D. Greeman.

As indicating the diversity of methods employed to keep the United States in its position as the greatest agricultural nation in the world the United States bureau of education notes that instruction in efficiency methods on the farm is now given in this country through no less than eleven main agencies. These agencies according to a publication just issued for free distribution by the bureau, are elementary and secondary schools and agricultural high schools; country schools of agriculture; traveling schools teaching the same pursuit; farmers' educational trains; farmers' institutes; agricultural clubs and like organizations; gardens for city schools; normal schools of agriculture; and colleges of agriculture.

In order to supply the basis for a complete understanding of this movement, Edward D. Greeman, in charge of the reference section of the United States bureau of education, has prepared a comprehensive bibliography on the subject. The bibliography includes 377 entries dealing with every type of activity designed to promote agricultural education in this country and abroad.

“The majority of these references,” said Mr. Greeman yesterday, “are of comparatively recent date, for the reason that the movement toward agricultural education itself has attained considerable proportions only within a few years. Thus, it is interesting to note that the first chair in agricultural education, as such, in this country was founded by the Massachusetts Agricultural college in 1907. Now about two-thirds of the agricultural and mechanical colleges in the United States are offering some opportunity for special preparation for teaching agriculture. Agricultural institutions of college grade have of course been in existence for many years, but the agricultural education of children is a movement of such recent growth that like the pupils, it may almost be said to be even now in its teens.”

MINISTER ASKED TO RESIGN

Kokomo Preacher Central Figure in Scandal.

Kokomo, Ind., June 4.—Kokomo was stirred last night by the second scandal involving a minister within a week when the congregation of the Holiness church demanded that the pastor, the Rev. Walter Spray, hand in his resignation. The demand followed the publication of a story that the Rev. Mr. Spray was found last night in his church, behind barred doors, with a woman.

The minister refused to resign and a church trial will be held before Presiding Elder G. C. Middleton of the North Indiana District, who has been summoned to this city. The church will be closed until after the trial.

The Rev. Mr. Spray insists that he has done nothing “criminally or morally wrong” and declares that he will demand proof of the charges. The woman mentioned in connection with the case is well known socially, it is said. The Rev. Mr. Spray is married and has two children, and the woman, also married, lives with her husband in this city.

The published account of the episode alleges that the Rev. Mr. Spray was seen to enter the church with the woman last night and close the door behind them. Soon afterward a policeman and two other persons living near the church tried to enter the building, but found the door locked and barred. They broke down the door and found the Rev. Mr. Spray and the woman inside the church.

The scandal involving the Rev. Mr. Spray caused a genuine sensation in Kokomo, following so closely the resignation of C. C. Cissel, superintendent of the Northern Indiana Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, a few days ago, and the disclosure that he had been arrested while with a woman in a Minneapolis hotel during the recent General Conference of the church.

BEST WAY TO REACH PEOPLE

Newspaper Advertising Will Accomplish Merchant's Object Quicker Than Any Other Method.

In an interesting address before the San Diego, Cal., Ad Club recently, C. S. Holzwasser said among other things:

“Should you want to say something to those whom you cannot reach by the various methods we have, such as personal conversation or telephonic communication, they are best reached through the medium of the newspapers.

“Advertising, in my opinion, is the art of creating a desire in the minds of those whom you wish to reach to possess something that you have. Since everybody reads the newspapers, it follows as a matter of course that if you advertise in the newspapers, you reach the greatest number of people. I find that whenever I say something to my public in the newspapers—when I have something real to say—I always get splendid results. I find, however, that when I talk in the newspapers and do not say anything—I may as well not have used the newspapers at all. When I first started out to write advertisements, we used to hear and read about a man named Charles Austin Bates. I believe this is the gist of what he said: He said: ‘If you want to attract a man’s attention in the newspapers you will call to him in 72-point type. After you have attracted his attention, if he makes the start to come to you, tell him what you want to say in 10-point type.’ I would go a little farther than Mr. Bates, and would say in a loud tone of voice, exemplified by the 72-point type, what I wanted to tell him. I would also lower my voice after I had attracted his attention, but I would be very sure that I had something to say which would interest him, before I called to him at all.

“I find the nearer I approach the common sense in our talks in the newspapers, the more successful we are. I also find that evasion of the truth or misstatements of any kind in the newspapers is the most expensive kind of advertising, from the fact that we do not get results and such methods of advertising have a tendency to reduce confidence in our advertisements by the readers. Therefore, we advertise in the newspapers, plain statements of fact, garnished a little by the elegancies of the English language, always telling the truth, the results are absolutely certain.

“What is absolutely necessary in newspaper advertising is to be specific. To have something to say and to say it. As I have stated before, to say it in plain words which do not go over the various heads of the readers. We can assume that the proportion of educated persons to illiterates, or the proportion of illiterates who do not read the English language, is very small—practically nil. Therefore, if we have something to say, and we say it through the medium of the newspapers, we are bound to receive a very good hearing. I find that newspaper advertising, like every other field of human endeavor, is becoming an art, and embraces a great many units of this art. Advertising is no less an art than the practice of law or medicine. We can estimate accurately the results that we may obtain from a certain amount of space, which may be used in newspaper advertising. We know that where we specialize in any one of the units of newspaper advertising; where we present a good, logical reason for our readers to buy a certain thing, we obtain results.

“We know the man who has made a specialty of advertising, for instance, windmills, has made a success of the selling of these windmills from the fact that he became a specialist in this one particular line of work, and brought the selling of windmills up to a very fine art. Like the practice of medicine, which is divided into a great many subdivisions—each a department and study in itself—so advertising has been brought to such a fine art that specialists in advertising have today reached a stage where they can advertise their particular specialty, and can reach the buying public, surely obtaining results every time.

“I believe, personally, in specific advertising. I believe in advertising in the newspapers more than in anything else. It is the natural avenue, and the only one method we have for conveying such information as we desire to one another. While there are other mediums of advertising, in my career as a merchant (something like twenty-five years) I have reached the net result that the newspaper is the only one method by which I can surely create a desire in the people’s minds to buy something that I have on sale.

“The newspapers practically form public opinion on every question which arises. They, every day, contain lectures on sociology, on business, literature, philosophy, on everything that is of interest to man or woman. Therefore as time goes on, and minds enlarge, people become broader and the newspapers are filling a still broader field. I cannot see where any other method of advertising can be likened in any way with the advantages of those derived from newspaper advertising. I am quite sure, with the organization you have (composed, as it is, with a good part of the brains of the community—with the will to do and the knowledge to do it with—and the truth back of you), you cannot fail to bring results, even greater than you had perhaps aspired to.”

COLUMBUS WOMAN MISSING

Mrs. John Lockart Does Not Live in Seymour as Reported.

A story originating at Columbus was sent to one of the Indianapolis papers recently that a Mrs. John Lockart, of this city, was missing and was supposed to have been drowned in White River. It is also stated that she was visiting in Columbus and had spent several days along the banks of the river.

It appears that a woman by this name who lives at Columbus has not been seen for several days, and it is believed she may have been drowned, but there is no positive ground upon which to base the supposition. Mrs. Lockart does not live here and is not known in the city. Her husband, Mr. Lockart, is said to be serving a sentence in the Southern Prison of Illinois.

THRILLING ADVENTURE

A. L. Ewing Attacked by Hugh Shark While Fishing.

A. L. Ewing, paymaster of the Texas & Pacific Railroad, who is well known in this city recently had an exciting adventure while fishing near Dallas, Texas. Mr. Ewing is a brother of Miss Nina Ewing of this city.

The Dallas Democrat has the following account of the trip:

A. L. Ewing, the paymaster of the Texas & Pacific Railroad, had a tragic adventure last Wednesday which time will hardly efface from his memory. He and Stanley Crabb had gone to Tarpon, in quest of the Silver King. Mr. Ewing and his boatman were at the north end of the Government jetty, when he got into active controversy with a four and a half-foot tarpon, at the other end of the line. Mr. Ewing successfully brought in his prize, but, finding that the fish was too large for his own boat, he and the boatman started to drag the captive tarpon to the larger motor boat, which was conveying the smaller boats. Just then a monster shark, twenty feet long, made a dash for the tarpon, and would have carried it off, but for the fact that the fish hung closely to the side of the boat. Mr. Ewing and his boatman started to belabor the monster, with the boat's oars, and finally managed to reach the motor boat. The boatman jumped aboard the larger boat, carrying the line of the smaller boat, as well as the tarpon. Then something happened: The huge shark, whose fins looked like the blades of a steamship propeller, made a lunge at Mr. Ewing's boat, upsetting it and covering the paymaster, who found himself with the boat between him and the sky. It was sometime before he could crawl out of the trap. The time spent under the boat seemed ages to Mr. Ewing, in the fear that the monster shark would come back at him and finish the job. Fortunately, the shark followed his first prey and gave Mr. Ewing a chance to climb upon the upturned boat and await his rescue which soon followed.

Tarpon fishing has its excitement!

Offices Removed.

It is with pride that reference is made to the patronage accorded the Spaunhurst Osteopaths at their former offices. Their fair dealing, effectual methods and skill in their special lines has won for them a practice that has grown too large for their old quarters.

To serve the best interests of their practice and to give still more efficient and effectual service, they have removed their offices to the new Vehslage building, 14 Second Street. Their new offices are completely equipped with modern, non-drug appliances. This will be most welcome news to the friends and patrons of Osteopathy. Seymour is to be congratulated on the character of the osteopathic services thus made available to our citizens.

That the Spaunhurst-Cunningham osteopaths the public benefactors is evidenced by the kindly expressions of those restored to health through their skillful treatment. Their conscientious, thorough, painstaking care and candid, helpful advice given each individual case appeals to the intellectual, the cultured, the thoughtful, and their experience and ability commend them to those who suffer and are not improving under present treatment.

ON THE FUNNY SIDE

Moses' Choice.

On being asked which manner of death he thought was preferable, being killed in a railroad wreck or drowned, Moses, the colored servant, promptly replied:

"Railroad wreck."

We asked him why he preferred railroad wreck and he made the following rejoinder:

"If you is killed on de railroad, dar yo' is, but if you is drowned in de ribber, whar is yo'?"—Mack's National Monthly.

Not in the Dictionary.

A teacher was reading to her class and came across the word "unaware." She asked if any one knew its meaning.

One small girl timidly raised her hand and gave the following definition:

"Unaware is what you take off the last thing before you put your nightie on."—Harper's Monthly.

A Ready Giver.

"I approach you in a worthy cause, Mr. Titewad. We want to raise $100,000—a prominent philanthropist offers to contribute a quarter of it."

"Oh, well," said Mr. Titewad, hastily, "I don't mind giving another quarter. Can you change a half?"—House-keeper.

A Quick Luncher.

"Out to luncheon—back in five minutes," read the sign on the door.

"Are you sure he will be back that soon?" asked the anxious caller.

"Yes'm," said the wise office boy. "He ain't got the price of a ten-minute lunch in his clothes."

POOR FELLOW!

Gerald—I understand that, other things being equal, a large wheel revolves more rapidly than a small one. Geraldine—How your head must hum!

Love Song of the Office Boy.

Oh, Phyllis, dear, if I could be On your typewriter but a key I think that I should faint or such With joy, beneath your gentle touch!

One in Need.

Father—Why did you spend that quarter I gave you?

Bobby—I helped a little boy who wanted some candy.

Father—Oh, that's all right. Who was the little boy?

Bobby—Me?

Money's Sex.

French Preacher—Now, Tommy, what is money in French?

"Argent."

"Good; and what gender is it?"

"Feminine; money talks."—Satire.

A Common Cause.

"Do you understand the cause of the girls' quarrel?"

"Why, I was told it was six feet tall with broad shoulders and a drooping mustache."

Inanimate Fun.

The Scissors—You haven't much of a head.

The Pin—Maybe not, but we pins have our fine points.

Doubtful.

"Whom are you going to get to score your new opera?"

"I hope it won't be the critics."

WRONG MAN.

"I should have called before, I am afraid," murmured the little man as he entered the doctor's consulting room. "But these things are put off, you know."

Here he was seized with a very violent fit of coughing.

"A nasty cough," agreed the doctor. "Now just stand over here."

"But I just came—" said the stranger, but the doctor cut him short.

"Say no more," he answered. "I understand. Now take a deep breath and say 'ninety-nine.'"

"It's all right, doctor," said the visitor. "I know I've got a bad cough, but I've come round to say 99 cents. That's the amount you owe the electric light company. I'm a collector!"

Why Bother About the Rest?

"Does your husband carry any life insurance?"

"I don't know."

"I should think you would want to be informed about a matter that would be so serious to you."

"How could it be serious to me?"

"Why, if he died you would wish to know whether he had left you anything or not, wouldn't you?"

"Oh, if he died he would leave me a widow, and I should know that right away."

COULD NEVER FIND THEM.

Mrs. Wise—What kind of shirt-waists do you like best?

Mr. Wise—The kind you can't wear my ties with.

A Caution.

Walk very softly, brother, And don't disturb your neighbor. He may indulge, bethink you, In literary labor.

Full Fare.

Caroline—How do you like George, Susan?

Susan (not out yet)—Not at all; he has the manners of a street car conductor.

Caroline—Why, what do you mean? Susan—He is always saying: "Let's see, little girl, how old are you?"—Puck.

Laughter and Applause.

"Do you consider it art to employ a clique?"

"Well," replied the anxious looking theater manager, "it may not be art, but I don't know that it's any worse than a congressman's writing 'laughter' and 'applause' into his own speeches."

His Explanation of It.

"What are you laughing at?"

"Maud's letter. She writes that they had foggy weather all the way across."

"I don't see anything funny in that."

"No; but she adds that the captain must have neglected to take out clearing papers."

No Joke Here.

"I thought you had a trained nurse to wait on your wife."

"So I have."

"And now you're looking for more help."

"Yes. I find I have to have three or four maids to wait on the trained nurse."

IN CHICAGO.

Ella—I don't see how some of these clergymen live.

Stella—Well, I've done my share for them; I've been married seven times.

A Suggestion.

How should we woo sweet happiness To win her latest smile? Drive envy from our hearts, I guess, And make this life worth while.

Force of Habit.

Judge—Prisoner, you are charged with breaking into several houses. What have you to say?

Burglar—I used to be a bookkeeper, your honor, and I got into the habit of makin' entries.

KIDNEY TROUBLE

CASES LUMBAGO.

Remarkable Story About Great Remedy.

I cannot refrain from writing to say that your Swamp-Root has benefited me greatly. Last year I had a severe attack of lumbago. Was bad for a long time, and on seeing your advertisement, I determined to give it a trial. I did so and in two weeks was cured. I gave a bottle to a poor woman who could scarcely walk. She came to me in four days to tell me she was all right and most thankful. I had another attack last November and was so bad I could not rise from my chair without assistance and could hardly lace up my boot. I at once sent for more Swamp-Root and after taking two bottles, I am more than glad that I am well again. My age being seventy-three, I am the more convinced of the excellence of Swamp-Root.

Yours very truly,

HENRY SEARLE,

920 Center St. Little Rock, Ark.

Letter to
Dr. Kilmer & Co.,
Binghamton, N. Y.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You.

Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Seymour Weekly Republican. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

GRAY HAIRS VANISH.

Harmless Remedy Made From Sage and Sulphur Restores Natural Color.

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs which unfortunately are looked upon as heralds of advancing age. Gray hair, however, handsome as they may be, makes a person look old. We all know the advantages of being young. Aside from the good impression a youthful appearance makes on others, simply knowing that you are "looking fit," gives one courage to undertake and accomplish things. So why suffer for the handicap of looking old on account of gray hairs when a simple remedy will give your hair youthful color and beauty in a few days' time?

Most people know that common garden sage acts as a color restorer and scalp tonic as well. Our grandmothers used a "Sage Tea" for keeping their hair dark, soft and luxuriant. In Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy we have an ideal preparation of Sage, combined with Sulphur and other valuable remedies for dandruff, itching scalp and thin, weak hair that is split at the ends or constantly coming out. A few applications of this valuable remedy will bring back the color, and in a short time it will remove every trace of dandruff and greatly improve the growth and appearance of the hair.

Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and notice the difference in your hair after a few days' treatment. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. The Andrews Drug Co., Seymour, Ind. j5

Fifty Years Ago Today.

June 5.

A Federal naval force took possession of Fort Pillow. The case-mates, magazines and breast-works had been blown to atoms by explosives. The Federal flotilla steamed on to Memphis.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today.

A combination of European capitalists agreed to finance the French Panama canal.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous services.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Famous Stage Beauties

look with horror on Skin Eruptions, Blotches, Sores or Pimples. They don't have them, nor will any one, who uses Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It glories the face. Eczema or Salt Rheum vanish before it. It cures sore lips, chapped hands, chilblains; heals burns, cuts and bruises. Unequaled for piles. Only 25 cents at The Andrews Drug Co., Seymour, Ind.

ALTERED THE CASE.

During his last visit to this country Henri Vignaud, for so many years our secretary of embassy at Paris, told a story of one Renaud who came to Paris as senator from a district in the Pyrenees.

Renaud engaged a room at a hotel in Paris and paid a month's rent—200 francs—in advance. The proprietor asked him whether he would take a receipt.

"A receipt is unnecessary," said Renaud. "God has witnessed the payment."

"Do you believe in God?" sneered the host.

"Most assuredly," replied Renaud. "Don't you?"

"Not I, monsieur."

"Ah," said Renaud, "in that case please make me out a receipt!"—Lippincott's.

Relative Values.

"A dinner at $25 a plate ought to be fairly good eating."

"That would depend chiefly on the relative values of the plate and the food."

"Yes?"

"Your true gourmand would rather eat $24 worth of fancy food off a $1 plate than to eat $1 worth of ordinary food off a $24 plate."

OF COURSE.

Clerk (to the head of the Steel Safe Co.)—Here's a letter from a man who says he prefers our safes to all others.

Manager of Company—Fine. What's his name?

Clerk—No name. He merely signs the letter "Cracksman."

Always the Way.

He wore the smile that never came off. And, sooth, just for his pains, The world began to sneer and scoff And said, "He has no brains."

Knew Chicago.

"Going to get out here and stretch your legs?" asked the traveling man of his companion as the train stopped. "What place is it?" inquired the other.

"Chicago."

"No, I had one leg stretched here once!"

A Surprise.

She—John, the plumber you said you would send here is not all you thought he was.

He—Great Scott. What's the matter with him?

She—I don't know, but he had everything with him he needed for the work.

A Modern Game.

They were playing house. "I'll be the cook," said the older sister.

"Yes, that's just like you!" cried the others. "You always want to boss the whole show, just like our cook does."—Judge.

Described.

"What sort of man is Jipson?"

"Impossible, I fear."

"What do you mean by that?"

"Well, he's the kind of man who would make an ideal admiral in the Swiss navy."

A PAIR OF FOURS.

Cabman (from the south)—Ah'll carry yo' anywhar fo' fo' bits, mistah. Cholly (who is broke)—What I'm looking for is four bites, don't you know.

Feeble Pullers.

We have a great abundance now Of overrated stars: Some draw about as well, methinks, As cabbage leaf cigars.

Amenable.

"We had a scare on Sunday about the blue law."

"What was it?"

"My wife went to get some preserves for supper, and found they had been working."

Ghost Stories That Are True

Some years ago an Illinois physician, Dr. J. G. W. Entwistle, living in one of the Chicago suburbs, was hurrying one morning to catch a train for that city. As he crossed a street he saw approaching him an acquaintance, once well-to-do, who had ruined himself by drink. Dr. Entwistle, glancing at him as they met, noticed that his clothing was torn, his face bruised, and that there was a cut under one eye. He noticed, too, that the other kept looking steadily at him with a "woe-begone, God-forsaken expression."

Had he not been in such a hurry he would have stopped and spoken to him, but as it was he passed him with a nod.

At the station Dr. Entwistle met his brother-in-law, and said, while the train was drawing in:

"Oh, by the way, I just saw Charlie M., and he was a sight. He must have been on a terrible tear."

Both men, as it happened, had business at the Grand Pacific hotel and went directly there from the train.

They were met by a mutual friend who had a copy of the Chicago Tribune in his hand.

"Hello," he greeted them. "Did you know that Charlie M. is dead? Here is a notice in the paper, stating that his body is at the morgue. He was killed in a saloon fight. The paper hasn't got the name quite right, but from the description it's Charlie sure enough."

"But he can't be dead," said Dr. Entwistle, aghast, "for it was only a few minutes ago that I met him on the street in Englewood."

Nevertheless, it turned out that Charlie M. was dead, and that his body had been taken to the morgue several hours before Dr. Entwistle thought he saw him in the Chicago suburb.

Of a somewhat different order, but even more remarkable is an experience reported by an Englishwoman whose name, for reasons that will become obvious, it would be improper to give. With her husband she had recently moved into a fine old mansion surrounded by a charming park, with a broad stretch of lawn between the trees and the house. The place had for many years been the home of a family of ancient lineage.

One night, shortly after 11 o'clock, when Mrs. M. had gone up to her bedroom, she thought she heard a moaning sound, and someone sobbing as though in great distress.

Tiptoeing over to a window on the staircase landing she raised the blind and cautiously peered out.

Below, on the lawn, in the pale glow of the moon, she saw an amazing scene. A middle aged man, stern of face and wearing a general's uniform, was standing menacingly over a young girl who, with hands clasped in anguish was on her knees before him.

At the sight of his hard, unrelenting expression, Mrs. M.'s one thought was not of fear for herself, but of pity for the unfortunate girl.

"Without a moment's hesitation," she says, "I ran down the staircase to the door opening upon the lawn to beg her to come in and tell me her sorrow."

When she reached the door the figures of the soldier and the girl were still plainly visible on the lawn, and in precisely the same attitude. But at the sound of her voice they disappeared.

Months afterwards, when calling with her husband at a neighboring house, she noticed on the wall the portrait of a distinguished looking man in a military uniform. At once she recognized it.

"That," she told her husband in an undertone, "is a picture of the officer I saw on the lawn."

Aloud she asked:

"Whose portrait

New Programs.

The Tuesday Club and the Friday Magazine Club have issued their new programs for the coming year. The Tuesday Club will study English Poetry during the next year and an excellent series of papers have been arranged. The Tuesday Club held their last meeting for the season yesterday and will not convene again until Tuesday, Sept. 24.

The programs of the Friday Magazine Club are very attractive and arrange for meetings from September 20, 1912 to June 13, 1913.

Dance.

A dance will be given at Society Hall tomorrow evening by a number of the young people of this city. The music will be furnished by the famous Troubadour Orchestra, which will appear at the Majestic. The orchestra comes very highly recommended and will give a concert as they have an open date on their schedule. The orchestra appears at Louisville tonight and at Indianapolis Friday night.

Quarterly Tea.

The quarterly tea of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church was held at the home of Mrs. McColgin, Tuesday afternoon. The members were pleased to have a goodly number of visitors present. One new member was welcomed into the society. An interesting program was carried out. The offering for Miss Heaton's Bible Woman amounted to about $14. The meeting closed with a social hour while light refreshments were served.

Lawn Party.

Miss Faye Holmes gave a lawn party Tuesday evening for the "L. D." Society, at her home on East Fourth street. The lawn was beautifully lighted with Japanese lanterns and the lunch consisting of sandwiches, pickles, deviled eggs and punch was served. It was an enjoyable evening to all.

Entertained S. S. Class.

Mrs. T. C. Smith entertained the young ladies of her Sunday School class at her home on West Fifth street Tuesday evening. Three of the young ladies had their birthday on this date. The evening was spent very pleasantly.

Surprise Party.

Mr. and Mrs. George McIntire of Chestnut Ridge who were recently married, were given a surprise last night at their home. A number of their friends of the Methodist church of this city, were among the guests.

Indiana Club.

The regular meeting of the Indiana Study Club has been postponed until one week from tomorrow.

Why Don't You Go and See.

Mr. W. N. Fox, he just fixed my shoes and they look just like new. That's what they all say about our shoe repairing, old and young. There must be truth in it. If you are not already one of our customers we would like you to give us a call. Then you can judge for yourself.
